Before Christmas one of our co-ordinators in Wotton received an email allegedly from HM Revenue and Customs suggesting she was due a tax rebate and requesting her bank and credit card details so the rebate could be paid. She realised at once that this was a scam and did not reply. The email was just typed and very basic without any logos etc and was ended 'Best regards HM Revenue and Customs'
Please always take care when such details are requested by unsolicited means. Never disclose any such details without stringent checks. END
